THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY JUNE 22.

The political events of the past week seem to please Governor Hill very much. He begins to think that David won't have an up-Hill to climb.

Governor Beaver, of Pennsylvania, has been censured for not calling a special session of the legislature of that state to re-enact the imperfect $2,000,000 corporation tax law. But he did a better thing than calling an extra session. He vetoed some appropriations in the aggregate amounting to $1,000,000.

From the Chicago Tribune: General Fairchild is not naturally a vindictive man. His outburst when he learned of the president's order to return the rebel flags was only the ebullition of a high-tempered man taken by surprise. Instead of the palsy he called down on the man who would issue such an order he would probably be satisfied now, after thinking the matter over, with a plain case of rheumatism or cramp.

The Atchison Champion newspaper, declares that there is one piece of furniture now obsolete in the state of Kansas, namely; the old time worn, whisky soaked, beer stained, tumbler scratched saloon counter with its iron foot rail, and its worn and faded front bearing the toe marks of the thirsty, hilarious and motley crowd, who, with their bellies pressed against it, and their elbows planted upon its bestobbered top, swilled down the last 10 of bread, the poor wife's calico dress, and the baby's little shoe, and then, in their maudlin glee, made the day hideous and the night uproarous with their bacchanalian orgies."

The State Journal says that an error was committed in the statement being made that Governor Rusk had issued an unconditional pardon to Malon McCullough and Wm. Puetz, Milwaukee criminals in Waupun for robbing and shooting a street car conductor. The Governor did not pardon the men and withheld his consent to their release until the last moment before their term expired, when they were allowed their freedom for the purpose of giving them their citizenship. Were they allowed to complete their full term they would be outlawed and deprived of the rights of citizens.

The board of regents of the state university met in annual session at Madison on Tuesday. The first business was the election of officers and resulted as follows: President, George H. Paul, of Milwaukee; vice-president, Hiram Smith, of Sheboygan Falls; secretary, John G. McMinn, late of Racine, but now of Madison. Mr. McMinn is a recent from the First congressional district. The office pays $1,500 per year. A resolution was passed inviting the president of the faculty hereafter, as in accordance with the uniform disposition of the board heretofore, to be present at all meetings of the regents to take part in the discussion of all questions relating to the university. Appropriations were made for expenses, except salaries of instructors to the amount of $35,000 for the ensuing year.

Garfield University, Wichita, Kansas, is now approaching completion. The main building one and a quarter acres and is five stories high. The chapel will seat 5,000 people. There will be a hall for male students and another for female students. The rooms in these halls will be rent free and board will be furnished at actual cost. The grounds of the campus have been laid out by a competent landscape gardener, and will contain many varieties of trees and shrubs and a botanical garden. The university will teach all the branches usually taught in the great universities. It will have a well-equipped astronomical observatory, and its college of medicine will be supplemented by a large hospital. Its commercial college is already in operation, having 600 students. The university is a mile and a half from the heart of Wichita, which now claims a population of 35,000 and is growing fast. There are nine or ten other institutions of learning in or near Wichita, and the friends are now laying the foundations for the John Bright University, which will be the largest institution of that denomination in the United States.

Train robberies are becoming alarmingly frequent in the southwest. The latest one reported was particularly bold. The engine was invaded by armed men when stopped in a village of several thousand inhabitants, and at the point of the pistol the engineer was compelled to proceed until a place was reached where seven or eight men armed with Winchester rifles were in waiting. Then the robbers had everything their own way—most of the passengers being asleep until asked to give up their money and valuables—and made a tolerably rich haul. How to prevent such robberies is not an easy question to answer. The parallelism between such an occurrence and the old-time stage coach robberies is complete. In both cases the passengers are entirely at the mercy of the invaders. It is only a matter of numbers in the case of the train and of catching the train at a standstill. If this thing continues a special police force may have to be provided for every train, or else people will have to give over traveling. A good deal of encouragement has been given to these kind of robberies by not punishing the persons engaged in them in a manner demanded by the terrible character of the crime. A good many train robbers have been captured within the past ten or twelve years, but comparatively few have been properly punished.

President Bascom, of the State university, gave the board of regents a parting kick in his address before the alumni association. He stated that he wished to say that he was leaving the university not because he had lost his love for it or for the cause of education, but because of oppression on the part of the board of regents. For years past, he declared, he had been practically a dead-head; that his recommendations were of no avail, and that he had no influence with the board whatever. He asked that the alumni continue their love for the university, but that they should not rest till the board of regents had been completely remodeled. He said he would not specify any member particularly unworthy of positions they hold, but meant to include in his remarks all members. This is an unjust charge, because there are some splendid men on the board of regents. In regard to Mr. Bascom and the regents there seems to be a misfit. There certainly is not a single member of the board who would wish to oppress that gentleman. But one can easily see how trouble might arise between Mr. Bascom and the board. He is a ripe scholar, a profound thinker, a sincere christian, and a gentleman of many good points. But he is belligerent, and seemingly would rather fight than teach. His life in Madison for the past few years at least, has been one largely mixed with trouble. He could have avoided it all without sacrificing his honor as a man or his duty as a christian, but he would not and therefore his influence for good has been much neutralized. A president of a university ought to be so sure footed that when he turns about he will not stumble, and so trained in the use of his tongue that when he opens his mouth he will not blunder.

HIS OWN BURCHARD.

One of the most serious accidents, or rather blunders, that has overtaken the administration, was the rebel flag order. It will not be an easy matter to overcome the influence of that blunder. The order went out in haste, but when it was seen that it shocked and insulted the moral sentiment of the country, it was recalled, but too late to save the reputation of the man who gave its issuance his consent. The New York Sun, democratic, declares that the president has been his own Burchard, and uses the following language:

Mr. Cleveland has now been his own Burchard. Not by word of mouth, but by act, he has raised a storm which would be fatal to him should he try to appear again as a candidate. He has perhaps hurt the democratic party somewhat; himself he seems to have damaged irretrievably. For years the republicans have not been in such good spirits as now.

But the attempt to make party capital out of the hasty and quickly repudiated act of a single man ought to fail. The democratic party is not responsible and cannot fairly be held responsible for this unexpected piece of outburcharding Burchardism, that cannot be put off upon General Drum or Secretary Endicott. It should not be ascribed to the democratic party. The responsibility for it rests solely with Mr. Cleveland.

Mr. Cleveland will now have in a large measure the experience of Mr. Blaine. The latter was beaten by a blunder not his own. Three silly words from the lips of a foolish old man decided the presidential question in 1884. A majority of the people did not want Mr. Cleveland. They wanted Mr. Blaine, but the unfortunate alliteration of a zealot drove thousands of votes from him. Explanations or apologies did no good then, and the apologies of the administration will do no good now.

But the difference between the two blunders is this. Mr. Blaine had the consolation of knowing that he was not responsible for the blunder which lost him the presidency. He could not guard against the machinations of the cranks of the foolish that professed to stand for his election, and therefore three silly words spoken at the wrong time, or rather which should not have been spoken at all carried Mr. Blaine down to defeat. Mr. Cleveland's blunder is quite different. Some democratic papers, desiring to throw the mantle of charity over the president, say that he was led into the blunder by his cabinet. Some also say that the blunder would not have been made if Mr. Cleveland had about him somebody that knew something. General Butler says that the president meant well, but that he didn't know any better—that he does not know anything about the constitution or the laws, and therefore how could he do differently! It is time to stop a moment for sober reflection, when we are told by a friend of the administration that the president of the United States desecrated the law and violated the constitution because he did not know any better!

Such are customs and rules of political warfare in this country that the misfortunes of Mr. Cleveland will be used against him. He cannot wipe them out of remembrance by simply throwing the blame on his cabinet and apologizing for them. The blunder, like the judgment of Pilate, is written to remain. Bitter as was Mr. Blaine's regret and disappointment over the utterance of a sentiment with which he had no sort of sympathy, the democratic party used it against him, and within twenty-four hours after the fatal words fell from the lips of a superannuated minister, every town and city in the whole country was informed of the blunder. So Mr. Cleveland is his own Burchard. The better sentiment in this country will charge the flag order against him, and he will be beaten.

A STEAM BARGE SUNK.

EIGHT PERSONS GO DOWN WITH THE VESSEL.

Survivors Eight Hours in the Water—Fatal Collision Between Trains—Other Casualties.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 22.—The steambarge P. H. Walters, a 197-ton vessel, owned by John Honegardner of Sandusky, was sunk in a storm off Black River, Ohio, about 7 o'clock Monday evening and eight lives were lost. The vessel left Marblehead in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, and, when off Black River, the captain's wife, who was on board, begged the master to put in at Lorain, as the threatening weather alarmed her. The vessel was headed toward the harbor but had scarcely turned about when she was struck by a terrible squall. The wind bore the barge round and round. The hold filled with water, and in half a minute she sank. The captain, the mate and two of the captain's sons saved themselves by clinging to floating fenders. Tuesday morning about 3 o'clock, the cries of the shipwrecked quartet attracted the attention of the lookout on the steamer Pearl, bound to Cleveland from Detroit. A lifeboat was lowered and the shipwrecked mariners were brought to Cleveland.

The lost are:

Mrs. J. G. GILLESPIE, wife of the master.
ALPHOS and JENNIE GILLESPIE, the master's children.
Engineer PETER GRINES of Cleveland.
Fireman JOHN PETERSEN.
Wheelsman GUST SHAFFER of Sandusky, Ohio.
Deck-Hand PETER POWLEY of Light-House Station, Ohio.
Stewardess KATE POWLEY, wife of Peter.

The saved are: Capt. J. G. Gillespie of Port Clinton, Ohio. Mate James Flora of Port Clinton, Ohio. George and Ikey Gillespie, sons of the captain. The survivors were brought to this city.

Fatal Railway Collision.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., June 22.—This village was the scene of a terrible disaster about 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore depot, and the track for several hundred yards presents a horrible picture. The express train due here at 5:58 p. m. had left the station and run but a few yards when it was met by the north bound Congressional express from Washington running at a high rate of speed, and a frightful wreck ensued. The fast express struck the baggage of the south-bound train just as it crossed the switch below the depot and crashed into the parlor cars behind, overturning and completely demolishing two of them. No one on the north-bound train was hurt, but the south-bound train of six cars was very full of passengers, and nearly all of them were more or less injured.

Alexander Gantrom of Washington was instantly killed. Among the wounded were: P. A. Bland of Washington, head scalded; A. Brice, New York, head and arm cut; B. N. Baker, Baltimore, left leg broken; Rev. J. P. Pinkham, Minneapolis, Minn., shoulder blade broken and arm fractured; J. M. Wharton, Baltimore, skull fractured; J. H. McCormick, Brooklyn, N. Y., badly scalded; A. L. Wood, Camden, N. J., seriously hurt about the head; Rev. Hobart Smith, Baltimore, leg and hand badly cut. There were many others whose names could not be ascertained, who left as soon as possible.

Disastrous Fire at Leavenworth.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 22.—A disastrous fire occurred Tuesday morning, being first discovered in a basement of the retail furniture house of Helmers & Parmlee, Nos. 306 and 308 Delaware street, and before it was under control had destroyed ten of the best buildings in the city with the stocks contained therein. The fire made great headway, and Pate & Ferguson's furniture store was soon ablaze, quickly followed by M. Cranton's furnishing establishment on the east, Holmes & Parmelee's two large wholesale buildings, the cracker factory, and the metropolitan restaurant on Shawnee street, the drug house of Humphrey & Davis, Rosenberg & Schloss, wholesale cigars, and of S. A. Assman, dry goods. The last three were not materially injured by fire, but they were deluged with water and much of their contents destroyed. The losses are estimated from $200,000 to $350,000, upon which there is an insurance of $125,700.

Damages by a Storm.

SEDALIA, Mo., June 22.—A heavy wind and rain storm prevailed in this section early Tuesday morning. At Green Ridge the Missouri, Kansas & Texas depot was struck by lightning, and with its contents entirely consumed, entailing a loss of $5,000. Near Fayette the barn of a farmer named Adams was blown down and fifty sheep and three horses killed. Corn was laid low and the destruction to crops of all kinds is great. On the farm of Caleb Toms, five miles from Drowns ville, a McCormick binder was struck by lightning and every particle of woodwork on the machine consumed.

Brothers Killed by Lightning.

HUNTINGBURG, Ind., June 22.—Monday evening at Birdseye, near here, James and Thomas Kendall, brothers, were stricken down by lightning and instantly killed. They were seated under a tree during a severe thunder-storm. Their aged mother, who was standing near, was stricken senseless, and few hopes are entertained of her recovery.

Testimony Closed in the Cora Lee Case.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 22.—Several prominent citizens testified in the Cora Lee trial Tuesday that the reputation of S. L. Hazeltine for truth and veracity was good. He is the witness for the defense who swore he saw George Graham and his wife get off the cars at Dorchester on the night of the murder. Everett Comfox, recalled, swore he did not tell Mrs. Egbert, a washerwoman, that he intended to do all he could to prosecute Cora Lee and that some night he would knock down Judge Howell, one of the defendant's attorneys. Mrs. Egbert had declared that he did. The last three witnesses on the stand were Mrs. Molloy, Florence Warner, and Etta Molloy. They each swore that Cora Lee was dressed in black. The arguments of counsel were begun and will be continued to-day.

Indiana Knights of Labor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 22.—The State Convention Knights of Labor, resumed deliberations and the reports of the committee were read and passed upon. Mrs. Patterson, State lecturer and organizer in Illinois, addressed the body at some length, and her remarks were well received. Some changes were made in the constitution, and an assessment of 6 cents levied upon every member of the order in the State.

Sharp Told of His Bribery.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Most of Tuesday was consumed in the Sharp trial in reading documents. George V. Powell, employed by Sharp to procure the consent of property owners to [illegible] cars on Broadway, testified [illegible] to him when the mayor [illegible] he (Sharp) had fixed [illegible] that they would pass it [illegible]

MICHIGAN LAW MAKERS.

Bounty Bills Consolidated—The Election Laws Considered.

LANSING, Mich., June 22.—The closing days of the Legislature are being characterized by hard work. The bounty bills were consolidated. They extend the bounty paid to soldiers who enlisted during the last half of the war, to all soldiers, sailors, and marines who enlisted from Michigan, and provide that the same shall be paid to the surviving soldiers or descendants upon presentation of the proper proof to the Quartermaster-General. The bills are yet to be considered by the Senate. The House afternoon session was devoted to the vetoed University bill, on which there was a long discussion, both the Governor and the university management being largely criticised. The bill was not passed over the veto, receiving but 43 ayes to 47 noes. The House passed Representative Damon's bill to prohibit the employment of more than 150 convicts on any one job at the same time.

The Senate spent a large portion of the day on the Grinnell Election bill, which provides for uniform ballots, separate booths for voters, and prohibits the soliciting of votes. It was passed in committee and will probably pass on third reading. At the Senate evening session a new University Appropriation bill was passed. It differs from the vetoed bill only in that the physical laboratory item is cut down from $75,000 to $50,000. Gov. Luce may follow up his University bill veto with a veto on the Mining School bill. The House took steps to have the bill recalled from the Governor, who has had it in his possession several days, but it has not been returned.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Canada's Jubilee celebration will occur on Thursday and Friday of next week.

The 15th annual convention of the master plumbers is in session at Chicago.

The Patriotic Order of Sons of America is in eleventh annual session in Chicago.

At Cork and Belfast, Ireland, serious disturbances on account of the jubilee demonstrations were made.

The forty-third commencement of Notre Dame (Ind.) University is attracting more visitors than in any former year.

The fortieth commencement exercises of the Beloit, Wis., college are fully under way and the attendance of alumni and visitors is large.

A colossal whisky pool, modeled after the style of the Standard oil company, is said to be in formation in this country and will be finally effected about Aug. 1.

The estimated receipts and expenditures of the government in the months of July and August show that there will be a decrease rather than an increase of the treasury surplus during that time.

On Wednesday next Miss Grace Howard, eldest daughter of the well known journalist, Joe Howard, Jr., will leave for a two years sojourn as a missionary among the Indians of the Crow Creek agency in Dakota.

Work of the Inter-State Board.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Inter-State Commission has issued an order directing that joint tariffs of rates, fares or charges, which are required to be filed by the commission, shall also be printed in large type and posted in such places as shall render them easily accessible for examination by the public. A copy must be posted at every station or depot where business is transacted in competition with carriers whose schedules are also required to be published. The case of the Burton Stock Car Company vs. the Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Chicago & Alton, and a half-dozen other western railroads, came up for a hearing before the commission Tuesday. The complaint against these railroad companies in this case is that they discriminate against the Burton company and charge more for transporting their cars than is charged among the associated roads for the transportation of their ordinary stock cars. Gen. B. F. Butler appeared as counsel for the Burton Company. Mr. Burton explained the advantages of his improved stock car over ordinary cars used by the railroads, and submitted evidence in support of the alleged discrimination.

Mrs. Blaine Ill.

LONDON, June 22.—The illness of Mrs. Blaine may alter the junketing plans of the ex-Senator. She suffered her first prostration Sunday. It had been understood that the family would attend a special American excursion to Hughenden that morning, and when they failed to appear there was much wordy dissatisfaction. Mrs. Blaine took to bed, and, being considerably worse Monday, Dr. Verndon was summoned. She arose for a few moments Tuesday and viewed the monarchical pageant as it passed the Metropole hotel on its way to Westminister. Unable to endure the tedious wait for the Queen's cortege, however, she was led back to her couch. The Senator has scarcely been outside his hotel apartments since Sunday evening. None but the most intimate friends have secured an audience and all social invitations have been disregarded.

Beastiality Personified.

REPUBLIC, Mich., June 22.—Some ten days ago a stranger named Reuben Hubbard came in from the woods, and has been drinking heavily ever since. Tuesday he coaxed Emma Callus, aged 4 years, into a barn with a bag of candy and horribly maltreated the poor little one. She remained conscious long enough to fully identify the brute, when she sank into insensibility, and now lies in a comatose state, from which she can hardly recover. Dr. Tast says the injuries are doubtless fatal. The brute was arrested, and in addition to his positive identification by the little sufferer, he carried on his person further damaging evidences of his guilt. The whole community is boiling with rage, and there is little doubt that before another day breaks he will be lynched.

FIFTY YEARS A QUEEN.

GRAND CELEBRATION OF VICTORIA'S JUBILEE.

London Ablaze With Splendor—Thousands View the Glittering Pageant —Exercises at Westminster.

LONDON, June 22.—The first day of the fifty-first year of the reign of Queen Victoria over Great Britain opened with perfect summer weather in London. A lovelier day could not have been desired for the celebration of her majesty's jubilee. The sun shown bright, the air was clear and not very warm, and a gentle breeze blew steadily. The crowds scattered over the city are unprecedented in numbers and size. Thousands of people who had selected locations along the route of the procession, in order to retain them occupied them all the night, and many used camp-stools or improvised rests to enable them to withstand the long and tiresome occupation. A steady stream of carriages and pedestrians poured constantly all night until dawn through the city, from all directions toward the west end. At 5 o'clock in the morning every point of vantage along the streets composing the royal procession route was secured. At 9 o'clock the line of route was on each side a compact mass of people. Everybody, despite the discomfort of the crowding, manifested the utmost good humor.

The line of the procession from Buckingham palace to Westminster abbey was as follows: From the palace portals along Constitution hill, Piccadilly, Regent street, Waterloo place, Pall mall, East Cockspur street, Northumberland avenue, Thames embankment, Bridge street, to abbey. The line of route was kept by nearly ten thousand troops, representing all branches of the service. In addition, 600 boys from the naval training ships were drawn up at the base of the Nelson monument. In addition to the military, many thousands of police, both mounted and on foot, were on duty under command of Sir Charles Warren. The military force was under command of Gen. Gipps and Col. Stirling of the Coldstream guards.

Punctually at 11:15 a. m. the Queen, in an open carriage, emerged from the palace gates. At sight of her thousands of voices were lifted up in cheers, the applause being accompanied by the music of many military bands stationed in front of the palace. The Queen did not wear her state robes but was dressed in black. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Edinburg, the Duke of Connaught, her sons; the Crown Prince Imperial of Germany, the Marquis of Lorne, Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, and Prince Henry of Battenberg, her sons-in-laws, and Prince Albert Victor and George of Wales, Prince Alfred of Edinburg, and Prince William of Prussia, her grandsons, all rode in full uniform beside the Queen's coach as a bodyguard. When the people at the palace gate had shouted themselves hoarse cheering for the Queen they continued to cry out: "Long life for the Prince and Princess of Wales!"

The Queen, as she left the palace, seemed to be in excellent spirits, and she smiled and bowed graciously to the people on every side. The procession proceeded at a smart walking pace into Constitution hill, and then adopted a more deliberate gait. Owing to the lateness of the spring the beautiful green of the avenue trees, the sweet odors of the hawthorns, and the splendid uniforms of the military, coupled with the enthusiasm of the crowd, made the occasion one of refreshing enchantment. The procession slowly made its way until the Wellington arch was reached, and then the first introduction to the London streets ensued. Emerging from the Wellington arch, the first to greet the Queen were the convalescent patients and others at St. George's hospital, which was packed from basement to roof, seats having been erected for many thousands over the roof of the hospital.

Facing Devonshire house at the Bath hotel, a gigantic booth had been erected, and from this point to Westminister Abbey every point of vantage had been seized by contractors to fix seats. The fronts of the Burlington arcade, the Royal academy, the Egyptian hall, St. James parish church, where 1,000 children were seated and sang "God Save the Queen," and the Museum of Geology were all packed with human beings. On reaching Regent circus, where six main streets converge, the sight was a memorable one, the streets all being splendidly decorated with flowers, flags, evergreens, etc. Many of the imposing commercial buildings along the way were one mass of heads.

Many American ladies and gentlemen had secured seats at a palatial commercial establishment in Waterloo place, and joined in the enthusiasm as warmly as the English. Passing around Pall Mall East, a large gallery was erected over the colonnade of Her Majesty's theater, while 1,500 chairs were all filled at Waterloo House in Cockspur street. Trafalgar square was now reached, and the crowd here was tremendous, and completely eclipsed any that has been assembled at the great political gatherings of recent years. The steps and lions of the Nelson column were crowded with people, while the roof and steps of St. Martin's church and the steps of the National gallery were packed with a dense mob. After crossing Trafalgar square, where the police had great difficulty in keeping the people back, the procession gradually approached Northumberland avenue. On reaching the Thames embankment the procession had to make a detour almost at right angles. From the new National Liberal club to St. Stephen's club the enthusiasm was indescribable. Men clambered up the trees in such numbers as to badly injure many of them. All along the Thames embankment, when not occupied by public gardens, seats and galleries had been erected.

On the procession reaching the Abbey the troops saluted, guns were fired, the bells of the churches rang out merry peals and flags were run up, the cheering being continued until the Queen had passed into the west door. After passing through the vestibule Her Majesty was conducted to the grand dais under the lantern tower. She was surrounded by thirty-two members of the royal family.

The scene at Westminster abbey was most brilliant. Every seat was filled, and every person present was a distinguished person. When the identities were enumerated it seemed as if every locality the world over had sent its most distinguished representative. There never probably in modern times assembled under one roof an audience so well and so brilliantly arrayed. Every man present entitled to wear a uniform or decorations had both on, new or burnished up. When this audience was all seated the scene presented was incomparable. When the sun shone brilliantly through the noble stained windows of the abbey its rays fell upon an unaccustomed sight, and the picture was indescribable. The audience, banked up as it was in church, was anything but somber. For awhile, when all were seated, there was quiet, but this was only temporary, and lasted only long enough to enable the people to locate one another. Then there was the fun of recognition and of gossip, and this graduated rapidly into a noisy hum.

When the Queen entered ten thousand people were seated. They all arose. The women discarded their wraps and revealed the full splendor of their beauty and attire. Three tiers of galleries had been built in the Abbey with seats for 10,000 people. The Peers and their wives were seated in the south transept. The Ambassadors and Diplomatic Corps were seated right and left of the Peers. Members of the House of Commons were placed in the north transept. The seats for the members of the reigning families of Europe, etc., were within the communion rails.

The religious services in the abbey were conducted according to the carefully-prepared programme. The archbishop of Canterbury and the dean of Westminister alone conducted them. Nearly every dignitary of the Established church, however, was present, besides a great number of distinguished clergymen belonging to other denominations.

When the clergy at the head of the royal procession moved into the church, the national anthem was rendered by the organ. The music was thrilling, and the audience rose as a unit and lent their ten thousand voices to accompany the choir. The effect was so grand, so profound, that many persons were moved to tears. It was at this moment that the Queen appeared within the doors. Then the singing of the anthem ceased, and the processional march from Handel's "Occasional Oratorio" was given by the organ during the progress of the Queen and the royal family to the dais.

When they were seated, and the archbishop of Canterbury and the dean of Westminster had taken their places within the sacrarium, the archbishop began the service by asking of God's blessing upon the Queen. The "Te Deum Laudamus" was then sung by the choir to the music composed by the prince consort, the Queen having requested this. The Lord's prayer was then said, the responses (adapted to the occasion) being intoned. Then three special prayers were offered. Following the prayers the "Exaudiat Te Dominus" was sung, with organ and brass band accompaniment. The dean of Westminster then read the lesson for the day, being the First Epistle of Peter, ii, 6-18. Dr. Bridge's special anthem, selected by the Queen last year as her jubilee anthem, was next rendered, followed by the choral "Gotha," composed by the prince consort. Two more special prayers for the defense of the faith, the spiritual welfare of the kingdom, and for peace and love, followed, and were supplemented by the benediction, which was pronounced by the archbishop.

When the benediction had been said the Queen's sons knelt before her and kissed her hand. They arose, and her majesty kissed each upon his cheek. The princesses next advanced to the Queen and kissed her hand, and she kissed them all, favoring some twice, making unusual demonstrations over the princess of Wales and princess Beatrice. Other relatives of the Queen then saluted her, and she shook hands with some and kissed others, kissing the Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany twice, very heartily each time.

It was past 1 o'clock when the Queen emerged from the abbey. She at once resumed her carriage and returned to Buckingham palace, this time taking the route she went after her coronation fifty years ago. This was via Parliament street, Whitehall, Cockspur street, Pall Mall, St. James street, Piccadilly, and Constitution hill to Buckingham palace. When the royal procession reached Parliament street it found the streets as densely crowded as they were two hours before, and in some places more so.

The Celebration Elsewhere.

In almost every large city in the world where any considerable number of English-born citizens reside, elaborate displays and celebrations of the jubilee occurred.

Queen Victoria, whose jubilee is being held, was born in Kensington palace, London,

VICTORIA WHEN SHE WAS CROWNED.

May 24, 1819; she ascended the throne on June 20, 1837; was crowned in Westminster abby June 28, 1837, and proclaimed Empress of India at Delhi June 1, 1877. The Queen married Feb. 10, 1840, Prince Albert, known as the prince consort, who died at Windsor castle Dec. 14, 1861. Every year, on the anniversary of his death, she goes to his mausoleum at Frogmore.

Balmoral, in Scotland, is the Queen's favorite residence. When there she frequently throws aside all royal state and goes among the Scotch cottagers and gillies, talking with them about their commonplace lives and interests, and giving them advice and not unfrequently a little present. She has been known to open the servants' ball by dancing with a be-kilted Scotch gillie. The principal palaces of the Queen are Buckingham palace, St. James palace, and the Kensington palace in London; Windsor castle, situated some distance from London, and Osborne house, a seaside residence in the Isle of Wight.

Though Shaken Like A Leaf.

By the most trivial causes, weak nerves are easily susceptible of invigoration, a term which also imports, in this instance quietude. The nervous have but to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters systematically to overcome that super-sensitiveness of the human sensorium, which is subversive of all bodily comfort and mental tranquility, and which revolts most hortfully upon the system. The difficulty underlying this, as well as many other ailments, is imperfect assimilation, no less than incomplete digestion of the food. In the discharge of both the digestive and assimilative functions, the Bitters are the most potent, the most reliable auxiliary. As the body regains vigor and regularity by its aid, the brain and nervous system are also benefited. Persons subject to the influence of malaria, dyspeptic and rheumatic invalids, and persons whose kidneys are inactive, should also, use the Bitters.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by Sold by Prentice & Evenson O. P. O.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Preparations for the Season at Washington Park.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Over 700 horses are now stabled at Washington Park and every day the track is occupied from morning till night with horses in practice. Great interest centers in the Derby, which occurs on Saturday. It is conceded that this event will bring to the post by far the finest field of 3-year-olds that has yet faced a starter in the West this season. It is now impossible to say just what the composition of the Derby field will be. Of the sixty-five original nominations, fifty-four are eligible to start. The following may possibly go to the post: Duke of Bourbon, (Vincent); Cary, (Blaylock); Unite, (Hogan); Fugate, (Lewis); Clarion, Terra Cotta, Fonelon, (Lenvy); Libretto, Prodigal, (Hamilton); Whitenose, Montrose, (Withers); Potcen, (Stovall); Jim Gore, Fitzpatrick, (possibly); Dixby, Procrastinator, Indolence, Goliah, (Murphy); Miss Ford, (West); Wary, Safe Bet, Hindoo Rose, Corrigan, the Fleetwood stable and Swigart may start but one each, and Duke of Bourbon, Safe Bet and Hindoo Rose may be considered doubtful contestants.

New Postal Treaty with Mexico.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Postmaster-General Vilas has made public the terms of the new postal treaty between the United States and Mexico. The treaty provides that the mails of each country shall be open to all matter now mailable under the law of either country, and mail matter is to be subject to rates and regulations now governing in the country in which it originates. There is to be no exchange of accounts or revenues between the two countries, and each country is to bear the expense of carrying its mails to the other, each retaining the revenue for matter originating within its boundaries; or if, by agreement, the conveyance in both directions in overland exchanges, other than railway, is provided by one of them, the expense of transportation shall be shared between them in proportion to the distance traveled over the territory of each.

Attacked by a Brutal Tramp.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 22.—Near Colfax, this county, Tuesday, Mrs. David Chalfey, a farmer's wife, was attacked in her house during her husband's absence by a tramp, but escaped by a heroic struggle, in which she was finally aided by the house dog. The tramp fled into the corn as her husband approached the house. A mob of a hundred mounted and armed men has been on the search for the tramp ever since, and should he be caught he will speedily be lynched. Mrs. Chalfey was brutally beaten about the head and choked.

Train Robbers in Michigan.

PORT HURON, Mich., June 22.—Tuesday morning five men boarded the 1:15 a. m. Grand Trunk train at Fort Gratiot going east and "held up" the passengers. Several lost what money they had, one man losing $100. Three men have been arrested on suspicion, and are now in jail here. The robbery was done very quietly, and only those knew of it who were awakened by the robbers.

Indiana's Election Conspiracy Cases.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 22.—The parties under indictment in the United States Court for conspiracy in connection with the election of 1886 appeared by attorney in court Tuesday morning, and formal motions to quash the indictment in each case were entered. Judge Woods informed them that trials will begin not later than July 20. The motions to quash will be argued on Tuesday.

Mongolians on a Strike.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Over 400 Chinese laundry employes struck for higher wages yesterday afternoon. They wanted $4 instead of $3.50 a day and the washers wanted $2.50 instead of $2. This, however, is only the hot weather demand. A few of the bosses of laundries acceded through sheer necessity.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. SPECIAL ELECTION.

Pursuant to an order of the common council of the city of Janesville, adopted June 15th, 1887, a special election will be held in said city, on the 24th day of June, A. D., 1887, to determine whether the city of Janesville shall issue its corporate negotiable bonds to the amount of twelve thousand dollars, payable at the time or times and at a rate of interest to be fixed by the common council, the said sum of twelve thousand dollars, the amount for which said bonds are to be issued, to be used in the erection of a new school building for school purposes in the second ward of said city, on the lot on which now stands the city hall and on which the present ward school building now stands. The forms of ballots voted at the election shall be as follows:

For the new school building and the issuance of city bonds to pay therefor to the amount of twelve thousand dollars.

Against the new school building and the issuance of city bonds to pay therefor.

The polls for the election will be held at the following places:

In the Third ward, at C. H. Leo's carpenter shop.

In the Fifth ward, at the C. & N. W. freight depot.

That the polls be opened at 9 o'clock a. m. and kept open until 7 o'clock p. m. of said day, when they shall close.

The inspectors and clerks of the respective wards will act as inspectors and clerks of the said election.

Dated June 15th, 1887.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

What the Newspapers Say Concerning Well Known Men and Women.

Mrs. Lizzie Champney, the well known writer of children's stories, is a tall, slender woman and a graceful talker. Her husband illustrates her stories.

Miss Anita Lucille Cody, daughter of "Buffalo Bill," is a beautiful brunette of 22 summers, is tall, has a pretty figure, and is vivacious and well educated.

Mr. Anderson Critchett, the celebrated London surgeon, was recently offered a fee of $25,000, probably the largest medical honorarium on record, to go to India to treat one of the native princes. After consideration he declined the offer.

One of the last acts performed by Ben: Perley Poore before he was stricken down was on the recent birthday of George W. Childs. Mr. Poore went to the government printing office and set his 1,000 ems for the Childs fund like the rest of the printers.

The Goulds seem to take to stocks as naturally as ducks to water. "Eddy" Gould, George's younger brother, who is 20 years old, with a boyish face and a tiny black mustache, haunts the New York Exchange and operates in stocks in a nervy way. His antics afford much amusement to the old and sedate members.

Sir Henry Ponsonby, private secretary to Queen Victoria, is a miniature edition of Kaiser Wilhelm. His mustache and whiskers are cut in the exact shape and style of the German emperor's. His thin white hair is brushed over a high, bulging forehead, also in the Wilhelmstyle.

Modjeska's aim, according to her own frank confession, is to make money enough to return to California and pass the remainder of her days on her sunny ranch. The strain and incident of being on the road have troubled her greatly during the present season, and many of her performances have been given when she was scarcely able to walk.

Sir John Macdonald, premier of Canada, is exceedingly annoyed at the statement which has been frequently printed in newspapers that he began life as a bootblack. He says that while his people were not rich, his youth had the surroundings of a refined home, and that his family is of ancient Scotch descent.

John Roach possessed genuine Irish wit. When he came to this country he was only 15 years old. Some time after his arrival he met one of his father's most intimate friends, who asked him how he was getting along. "Getting along foine," said he. "Shure, when I kem to this country I hadn't a rag to me back, an' now I'm covered all over wid them."

A new portrait of Thomas Bailey Aldrich is being printed in the newspapers which is a striking example of how faithful is the resemblance of the average newspaper picture and the original. Looking leisurely over a pile of exchanges in his office last week, Mr. Aldrich ran over the headlines and casually glanced over not less than four papers containing his portrait without making the discovery that the counterpart there presented was intended for himself. A friend sitting at his elbow finally called the author's attention to the portrait. After looking at it a moment Mr. Aldrich said: "Well, I think I may be pardoned for not having recognized that."

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisic, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Frank Sherer & Co

Youthful Oath-Bound Robbers.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 22.—Two boys aged 14 and 15, who were arrested Monday while riding stolen horses, have confessed that a large number of youths of this city, the oldest being 22, have formed an oath-bound band and have stolen forty horses here within a few weeks. Their rendesvous in the mountains, seventy-five miles distant, has been discovered, and it is thought the whole gang will be captured, with all the horses.

We Caution all Against Them.

The unprecedented success and merit of Ely's Cream Balm—a real cure for catarrh, hay fever and cold in the head—has induced many adventurers to place catarrh medicines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the market, in order to trade upon the reputation of Ely's Cream Balm. Don't be deceived. Buy only Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your immediate locality will testify in highest commendation of it. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price 50 cents.

The great sources of the extensive curative range of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic are in its great blood purifying qualities and its gentle operative action, thereby removing all restraint from the secretive organs, curing promptly and thoroughly dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, pilis, pimples, low spirits, sick and nervous headache, ague, malaria and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. The most delicate stomach accepts it with relish. Price, fifty cents, of Prentice & Evenson, O. P.

THE FIDELITY BANK SHUT

AS THE PROBABLE RESULT OF THE CHICAGO PANIC.

The Government Takes Charge and Appoints a Receiver—Its Officers Under Arrest.

CINCINNATI, Ohio June 22.—The Fidelity National bank of this city is closed by order of Mr. Powell. A meeting of the board of directors is now in session. The doors of the bank are closed and policemen within and without guard the entrance against everybody except persons having business with the safe-deposit department of the bank. The sidewalks are lined with people in the vicinity, who are quietly discussing the situation without even knowing that a government bank-examiner has been here or that the doors are closed by government authority. No notice has been posted, and the only information given at the door is that the doors are absolutely closed to everybody, except persons having property in the safe-deposit vaults. One of the officials of the bank this morning assured a friend who had entrance to the safe-deposit vaults that the bank would pay every dollar it owed. The general feeling has been that the bank is strong enough, but a feeling of mistrust has become engendered from various causes against a few of its officers.

It has just been rumored that the directors have determined upon the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the business, and an effort is being made to obtain one. Mr. Griffiths of the Citizens', National has been suggested, but it is thought he will not accept.

12 m.—The directors' meeting has closed, but the doors still remain impassible. The crowd has gone, and aside from the policemen at the door and the few knots of people along the square, discussing the situation, there is nothing to indicate the occurrence of anything more than usual. At the meeting of the directors this morning, Mr. Powell, the bank examiner, announced that, owing to impairment, of the bank's resources the Government would take charge of it and would appoint a receiver to wind up the business. It is said, unofficially, that the alternative was given of continuing in business by a reorganization which would leave out Vice President Harper, Cashier Baldwin, and Assistant Cashier Ben E. Hopkins, but that the directors were unable to agree upon such a plan, or were unwilling to take the risk of a run following the interference of the Government. The outcome, however, was the appointment of Mr. John R. DeCamp, vice president of the Metropolitan National bank, receiver, and he was placed in charge of the bank's affairs.

United States Marshal Urner has arrested E. L. Harper, vice-president of the bank; Ammi Baldwin, cashier, and B. J. Hopkins, assistant cashier, under section 5,020 revised statutes. The warrants were sworn out by Bank Examiner Eugene Powell. Harper is charged with having issued, without authority of the directors of the bank, certain certificates of deposit amounting to $700,000; Baldwin with signing a check upon the Chemical National Bank for $50,000 without authority of directors, and Hopkins with having issued certificates to the amount of $300,000. They waived examination and were bound over to the United States Grand jury. Harper gave bond for $75,000, with H. B. Moorehead, Adam Wagner, Eugene Zimmermann, C. H. Chatfield, and William Woods as sureties, Baldwin and Hopkins gave $10,000 bonds each, with the same sureties. The waiving examination is regarded as a virtual acknowledgment of their guilt. The arrest is made under the same section of the United States laws under which Fish and Ward, of the defunct New York Marine bank, were sent to Sing Sing. Suit in attachment was brought this afternoon against the Fidelity by the Union National bank, of Cleveland, to recover $67,131.44 for moneys paid to and for the use of defendants. It was charged that the debt was fraudulently and criminally contracted.

It is now stated that the clearing-house settlements for the past few days have shown an unusual drain on their resources. Besides this many banks have kept their checks out of the clearing-house as a favor. There are numerous rumors afloat concerning the action of the bank examiner. A conservative director says it is his opinion that the depositors will get their money in full.

It is asserted that the liabilities of the bank, exclusive of capital stock, are about $5,500,000. The individual deposits are about $2,500,000.

Objecting to Chicago's Sewerage.

JOLIET, Ill., June 22.—Delegations from the Desplaines Valley cities, including Joliet, Morris, Marseilles, Ottawa, LaSalle, and Peru, held a convention in this city Tuesday to provide means for proceeding against Chicago to restrain that city from sending her sewage down the valley. The convention developed the fact that the valley cities propose to fight the Roche-Winston bill, which all alike characterized as a farce and a blind to the people of the Desplaines Valley, and gotten up solely in the interest of Chicago and for the object of relieving that city of its filth. Morris and Joliet were the only towns with committees representing them authorized to act. Therefore, on motion of P. C. Haley, a memorial was drafted to the unauthorized cities represented to appoint regularly authorized committees to act in conjunction with the other cities.

The Second Boodler Trial.

CHICAGO, June 22.—To-day was the day set for the opening of the second boodler case, known as No. 1023, and before Judge Tuley the case was called and the preliminary work begun. The defendants in 1,023 are Adam Ochs, J. Hannigan, M. Layden, J. E. Van Pelt, M. Wasserman, D. J. Wren, G. C. Kiehm, J. J. McCarthy, C. F. Lynn, R. S. McClaughrey, C. Casselman, R. M. Oliver, C. Geils, H. A. Varnell, W. J. McGarigle, F. W. Bipper, C. L. Frey and E. S. McDonald. Of these defendants, the whereabouts of J. Hannigan are not known, and it is understood that C. L. Frey will not be tried, he having consented to become State's evidence. The trial of this case will probably take much longer than that just closed, and the selection of a jury will be a more difficult matter, as there will be at least 160 peremptory challenges on each side.

The Panic Helps the Lawyers.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Three suits of attachment have been commenced in the Superior court by Howard B. Jackson of the firm of Jackson Bros., against the following board of trade firms: George K. Houghton, $37,075; Maurice Rosenfeld & Co., $1,668; and Samuel Eldridge, $1,168, all for failure to perform contracts for the purchase of grain and for money advanced.

Fatally Stabbed With a Pitchfork.

CORUNNA, Mich., June 22.—Henry Craig was arrested here Monday night for threatening to kill John Abbott. He promised to behave himself and was released. During the night Abbott's house was visited by Craig and his son, who assaulted Abbott. The latter fatally stabbed the elder Craig with a pitchfork.

Stories of Swill Milk.

The swill milk fraud is a perennial sensation in New York city. Disgusting as the newspaper accounts of the swill stables are, they scarcely do justice to the subject. I once spent a very risky and laborious month among the muscular "milkmaids," who carry a club instead of a milking stool, and whose muscles are more of a fortune to them than their faces, and I am willing to admit that when my job was done and in print, I fought shy of the neighborhood of the stables for a good many months. Long before my time, Albert Bierhaus had explored the same ground, and pictured it in Frank Leslie's Newspaper in all its grisly horror. Since my time other reporters have done good work at it, but swill milk continues to be drawn and sold in spite of the revelations the press makes. I suppose a healthy person can drink the stuff with comparative impunity, but it must be perilous to sickly and weak organisms, as those of invalids and children.

I knew an Englishman, a clever inventor, some years ago, who came to this country and went to live in a big cheap boarding house here. He had a wife and child—a lusty, beefy, British baby, that seemed as sound as one of its father's machines. The child was fed on milk procured in the house. It became unaccountably ill, and at the end of a hot summer it died. The father, who was a skilful chemist, had his suspicions directed to the milk. He analyzed it and found it pure poison. He knew nothing of swill milk, and believed the deleteriousness of the fluid to be caused by a foreign poison. But having traced it to the dairy and witnessed the method of its production, his eyes were opened. The swill milk man came down with a handsome sum in compromise of a threatened damages suit. He did not dare risk an exposure in court.—Alfred Trumble in New York News.

Scrofulous, Inherited and Contagious Humors Cured by Cuticura

Through the medium of one of your books received through Mr. Frank T. Wray, druggist, Apollo, Pa., I became acquainted with your Cuticura Remedies, and take this opportunity to testify to you the great use they have performed me of one of the worst cases of blood poisoning, in connection with erysipelas, that I ever seen, and this after having been pronounced incurable by some of the best physicians in our county. I take great pleasure in forwarding you this testimonial, unsolicited as it is by you in order that others suffering from similar maladies may be encouraged to give your Cuticura Remedies a trial.

SCROFULOUS ULCERS.

James E. Richardson, Custom House, New Orleans, on oath says: "In 1870 scrofulous ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption. Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain. I became a mere wreck. At times could not lift my hands to my head, could not turn in bed; was in constant pain, and looked upon life as a curse No relief or cure in ten years. In 1880 I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, used them and was perfectly cured."

Sworn to before U S Com J D CRAWFORD.

ONE OF THE WORST CASES.

We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by the use of five bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, Cuticura and Cuticura Soap. The Soap takes the lead here as a medicinal soap.

Choking Catarrh

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensation of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life breath from your frightened chest? Have you not felt the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catharral matter? What a depressed influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief with cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

How My Sides Ache

From the bench and the counter, from the loom and sewing machine and up the cry of pain and weakness, aching sides and back, kidney and uterine pains, strains and weakness, coughs, colds and chest pains, and every pain and ache oddally toil relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster, a new, original, elegant and infallible antidote to pain and inflammation. At all druggists, 25c; five for $1.00; or of Potter Drug Co., Boston.

—The Oregon ball team played our club here last Saturday, and was beaten by a score of 6 to 27. It would be a good thing for Oregon boys to practice a little before they attempt to play our club again.

FOR NEXT YEAR.

Political Talk from Three or Four Prominent Citizens.

Campaign gossip is heard on the streets already. A Gazette reporter started around to see if any of this had crystalized into booms, and heard the following:

Ogden H. Fethers—"I am inclined to think that the nomination of Mr. Sherman would be the wisest, all things considered. Mr. Blaine has a deservedly strong hold on the affections and confidence of the party, and, if elected, would be an ideal president. Some western man, like Judge Gresham, or Senator Spooner, should be nominated for vice president."

Judge J. R. Bennett: "If it were only practicable I should be for Judge Harland of Kentucky. As it is, however, my preference is for Blaine and Lincoln."

Hon. A. P. Lovejoy: "Blaine is my choice for first place, but as to the rest of the ticket I have not decided. Probably the best man would be Gresham."

Mayor Wicans: "Cleveland should be renominated while the other man should be from Indiana. Vorbees is my choice but I don't suppose he would accept. Next after him comes Judge Gray."

PERSONAL.

—Sam Wyler is in Chicago to-day on business.

—W. F. Carle is attending to business in Minnesota.

—Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Ashcraft are spending a week at Geneva Lake.

—Mrs. F. J. Helling is entertaining her sister Mrs. Guyot, of Pueblo, Colorado.

—Mrs. Hattie Lemon, of Chicago, is spending a few days in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Phelps of the 4th ward. Mrs. Lemon will be remembered as Miss Hattie Bruce.

—Dr. Q. O. Sutherland, G. G. Sutherland, G. S. Parker, Miss Mary Dunwiddie and Miss Helen Northrop were present at the alumni banquet of the state university in Madison, last evening.

—Prof. R. W. Burton, formerly superintendent of our city schools, now holding a similar position at Polo, Illinois, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Fifield, of South Main street. Prof. Burton is accompanied by his youngest son, and will attend the commencement exercises a Beloit College, he being a member of the class of '62. The Professor is cordially greeted by his many friends in Janesville.

BELOIT COLLEGE.

Items of Interest to Many Janesville People.

BELOIT, WIS., June 21.—The senior class of the college were favored to-day with beautiful weather for their out-door class exercises, which took place at 3:30 on the college campus. The exercises consisted of orations and papers as follows, some of which were exceedingly clever: Class Chronicles, James P Sheean, Galena, Ill.; Class Statistics, John A. Edkin, of Gilbert, Ill.; Campus Oration, J. K. Welsh, of Sussex; Class Prophecy, by S. O. Dauchy, of Chicago; Poem, by H. C. Brown, of Hyde Park, Ill.; Ivy Oration, by H. McCormack, of Miqueon; Ill.; Farewell address, by Class, President F. F. Norcross, of Janesville. A class song written by John L. Richardson was sung, and incidental to the ivy oration was the planting of an ivy-vine. To-night a large audience was present at the annual address before the Archean Union given by the Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, of the Plymouth church of Chicago. The prize speaking takes place to-morrow, and the alumni have a banquet and public meeting to-morrow night. A number of applicants have been examined for admission to the college classes, and the prospects are the freshman class next year will be one of the largest which has ever entered the college.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—Bert Button and Henry Tavos went on the Devil's Lake excursion Tuesday.

—The C. B. society will give an ice cream and strawberry social at David Kelly's residence this evening. All are invited.

—Travelers should remember there were two more passenger trains put on the Northwestern road Monday running from Janesville to Fond du Lac. The one going north leaves this station at 6:05 a. m. and goes south at 8:04 p. m.

—Prof. F. C. Densmore, who for the past three years has been the principal in the graded school, finished a successful term of service Friday. He has given good satisfaction and his methods of teaching have met with universal approval. Mr. Densmore has accepted the management of the graded school at Darien.

—The young people's annual picnic occured at Clear Lake Tuesday and was attended by the usual social crowd. At 3 o'clock the assemblege was called to order by J. C. Bartholf and the following officers for the ensuing year elected: President, John Owen; Secretary, Allie Chase; invitation committee, W. E. Paul, Maggie Paul, T. I. Place and Della Dennett. This is a picnic gathering which has met annually for the past seven years and was organized by Wm. Paul and Austin Butz.

—The older residents of the town of Milton will be interested in the following extracts from the "Pacific Rural Press" a paper printed in San Francisco. "Dr. Ezra Carr has just received an offer of $275,000 for his property located in Pasedena, Cal. The doctor is inclined to sell but will reserve a small portion upon which he will live." Dr. Carr formerly lived in Milton and has two brothers here now, Joseph G. Carr and Soloman O. Carr.

—Joseph Granger had a decided tired experience last Saturday and Monday when he attended the campmeeting at Beaver Dam. Going north Saturday evening at 9:18 he missed the train at Minnesota Junction and had to walk to the grounds some 12 miles. Then he missed connections at the Junction on his return trip and was compelled to wait for a later train. It is quite an attraction that will make a man walk 12 miles and miss two trains. "Joe's friends here were notified of his failure to connect, by telegraph.

A SEWERAGE SYSTEM.

Something Demanding the Serious Consideration of the Property Owners.

Why Need Milwaukee Street Be Kept in Never-Ending Confusion?

SOME SYSTEM NEEDED.

The adoption and completion of a system of water works in Janesville necessarily carries with it a system of sewerage. The question of constructing a sewer for Milwaukee street previous to the repaving of that street is just now being seriously considered by the common council. that body having referred the question to a select committee to report at a future meeting. The object the council has in view for putting in this sewer at this time is to avoid the promiscuous tearing up of the new pavement in order to lay the sewer and its connections, all of which is a very wise precaution. Otherwise, there would be no pressing necessity for any particular haste in the matter.

The question of sewerage in any city is one of the greatest importance not only to the property owners but to the entire people, and it should not be passed upon in a hurry by those in authority. The necessity for building one or two thousand feet of sewer in West Milwaukee street at this time should not press so heavily upon the council that plans for the complete sewerage system of the city, especially on the west side, be lost sight of at the same time. If this should be neglected it might lead to much useless expenditure of money and the rebuilding of the sewer when such a system is finally adopted. It seems the proper thing to do at this time is to employ a competent engineer to make a careful survey of the city, make proper plans and specifications for a complete sewer system, adopt the same, and then the city could proceed with the construction of the sewers at its pleasure. No one desires to see the whole work done in one or two years, but the plans will be ready for the people whenever they desire to build the sewers. That there is no pressing necessity for the immediate construction of the sewers (except in West Milwaukee street) is evidenced by the fact that Rockford, after eleven years experience with water works is just now engaged in building sewers. Fond du Lac, Madison and Oshkosh, and La Crosse are moving very slowly in the matter of sewer building. Let Janesville commence right, and there will be no cause for complaint when the sewers are completed.

Should we commence the building of these sewers without first having a system adopted for each division of the city, it will lead to many grievances and, no doubt, waste of money.

Janesville is peculiarly situated, all the streets running at right angles with the river having good grades, making sewerage in such streets very easy, while the streets running parallel with the river have very irregular grades, no two blocks being in uniform as to grade, making it absolutely necessary that some general plan be adopted, in order to avoid making a failure of the entire system. And another point to be considered is one of very great importance to the whole people, and that is an outlet for these sewers. They should not be allowed to deposit on the river banks right in the city. What little sewerage we now have emptying itself under Milwaukee street bridge is evidence enough against such a system. It is something that should be carefully studied, and when the best system is found it should be adopted and strictly adhered to.

A Trial By Jury.

That great American jury, the people, have rendered a unanimous verdict in favor of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, the standard remedy for bowel and stomach disorders, biliousness, sick headache, dizziness, constipation and sluggish liver.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 60 degrees above zero. Clear with west wind. At one o'clock p. m., the register was 66 degrees above zero. Cloudy with west wind. For corresponding hours one year ago the register was 64 and 94 degrees above zero.

A Philadelphia Saloon-Keeper Has a Draft.

A saloon-keeper named Terrence J. Lynch, at the S. E. corner of 11th and Locust Sts., some week ago was asked to take a ticket in the May drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery and was knocked aback by the information that ticket No. 15,806, of which he held one-tenth had drawn the Capital Prize of $150,000. His draft for the money was placed in the hands of the Third National Bank of Phil., and was promptly paid. This is the third Capital Prize of $150,000 fractions of which have been paid within the past three months in Philadelphia.—Philadelphia Telegraph, May 23.

Delegates from Country in Vehicles.

Immediately after the parade reaches the court house park it will be dismissed. There will then be a program under the management of the president of the day, Hon. John Winans, consisting of an oration by Hon. Pliny Norcross, also one by General Worthy Foreman, Richard Griffith of the Knights of Labor. The Rev. T. DeWitt Peake will act as chaplain and Mrs. J. B. Day will read the Declaration of Independence. Sweet music will be rendered by the Glee Club.

In the afternoon Janesville will turn out en-masse to meet her majesty, Queen Honolulu of the Sandwich Islands. Her majesty will arrive at 2:30 with a retinue of one hundred and fifty untamed natives. No creatures of a diseased imagination can equal these fiery cannibals in general hideousness, for their costuming will be in skillful hands. The one who is the nearest to a standing reproach on civilization and humanity will receive a prize of twenty dollars. The second prize will be fifteen dollars; the third ten dollars; fourth, five dollars and fifth two dollars and a half. There will also be a prize of $25 for the largest delegation of vehicles from any one place outside of the city.

Janesville has seen some handsome torchlight processions, but those in charge this year say that all previous records will be left far behind. Enough fire works have been ordered to make not only one spot, but every street in the city, seem like fairy land. A winding stream of fire will pass along the illuminated and decorated thoroughfares from eight o'clock until half-past ten. The display will be a fitting finale to so notable a day, and will be long remembered.

HANOVER.

—We smile once more; we have had several small showers this week.

—Those who attended the party at J. B. Inman's last week, report a very pleasant time.

—H. W. Brown gave us a call Monday. He is trying to dispose of some stock on the farm.

—Farmers cry hard times, still J. W. Wisch sells machinery. That is right, John, keep on. We enjoy seeing you do business, if we don't.

—Our base ball club went to Afton Sunday, and played the Afton nine. As they returned in good spirits, we take it for granted they beat them.

—During our rain of Monday, the lightning struck a colt belonging to Will Ryan. We understand it was insured.

—J. Scidmore, the merchant, intends to start a meat market before long. Give us clean meat, John, and we'll wish you success.

—Our town clerk was in the city last Saturday attending court; now he sports a new hat. Never mind, Mike, if the boys do cry, "shoot the hat" it is very becoming—if it is white.

BRODHEAD.

—Miss Elsie L. Salisbury, who has been principal of our schools for the past two years, has resigned her position, and Mr. J. A. Lakin, of the Beloit college graduating class, has been engaged to fill the vacancy. Miss Salisbury left Saturday for her home in Elkhorn.

—The Presbyterian Sunday school held their annual picnic Tuesday, in Spring Valley. There was a large number present and the day passed very pleasantly. The Spring Valley band was in attendance and added much to the occasion by their music.

—Mrs. H. C. Morehouse, of Deming, New Mexico, has come to Brodhead to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Browne.

—Miss Jennie Vought has returned to her home in West Day, N. Y. after a visit of several months with her aunt, Mrs. Stephen Pierce.

—Mrs. Paul E. Derrick, who has been visiting in Brodhead for the past two weeks, returned to Chicago Saturday.

—The G. A. R. has recently rented a new hall and opened it Tuesday night with a social and dance.

—Miss Jennie Bowen has returned home from a week's visit in Chicago.

—Quite a number of people from Brodhead and vicinity attended the races in Janesville last week.

—Miss Maude Rockwood has resigned her position as teacher in the Brodhead schools, and left Friday morning for St Paul where she will spend the summer.

SALESMEN WANTED—Good pay. S. A. MCOMBER & Co., Nurserymen, Rochester, N. Y.

MILTON.

—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and Chicago & Northwestern railroad companies will return all persons who attend the Commencement exercises of Milton College on the 29th inst., for one-third fare upon the following conditions: On the Northwestern road all persons on presentation of a receipt from the agent of the company, at the station from which they start on the line going to Milton for full fare paid, which receipt when filled up and signed by President Whitford will be honored for return tickets at the reduced rate by their agents at the reduced rate by their agents at Madison and Milton Junction. On the St. Paul road a certificate signed by President Whitford that the party named has been in attendance, is all that will be necessary to secure the reduced rates at this station.

—Mr. Carter, the spruce beer man of Janesville, was in town last week and in talking with W. P. Clarke about the soldiers' reunion recently held at Clinton remarked that he had not met any of the members of his old regiment since the war. Clarke asked what his regiment was and Carter replied 27th Mass. Clarke then informed him that Alf. D. Burdick was a member of that regiment and Sergt. Burdick and Corporal Carter were soon shaking hands for the first time since they parted at Florence, S. C. in 1865. They were both members of the same company and were prisoners of war together at Libby, Andersonville and Florence.

—Deacon Bingham has the foundation for his new house finished and the building will soon go up.

—B. F. Hudson has just bought the lumber of Green for a new barn and an addition to his house to be built on his new farm. Weaver and Davidson do the job.

—Supt. Thom was in town last Thursday giving the graduating class in the graded school an examination.

—The Standard Uncle Tom Cabin Co. give a show here to-night in a tent on the school park grounds.

—J. B. Estee, of Milwaukee, was in town last week visiting his father. He still has great confidence in the Gogebic range and especially in the Marquette iron syndicate in which he is personally interested.

—Mrs. P. C. Maxon and daughter, Della, of Milwaukee, visited Milton friends last week.

—Aaron Mink, of Ridgefield, Ill., was in town last week on business.

—The store of W. W. & W. P. Clarke was burglarized for the third time in five years last Thursday night. The thieves entered through a back window and secured about fifty dollars in change, mutilated coin, roll plate rings, gentlemen's initial scarf pins, stylographic pens, cigars, perfumery, etc. The bulk of the stock of watches, and jewelry which they were evidently in search of, was not on the premises, being taken care of every night.

—W. H. Crandall, of Friendship, N. Y., who has been here for nearly two years, left on a visit to his old home Saturday night. He will return in the fall.

—The pupils of the graded school and their teachers enjoyed a very pleasant social picnic at Storr's lake last Friday afternoon. The summer term closed that day and the teachers concluded that a picnic was better than a long program of exercises, and it was an eminently sensible conclusion.

—A large number of people from this locality attended the Janesville races, and enjoyed the trotting very much, but the intense heat and clouds of dust were disagreeable features.

—A. A. Brown cut the hay crop in the park this week.

—C. W. Crumb was in town this week. He reports a good trade in his line.

—Mrs. M. E. Burrows, matron of the St. Louis Home for Old Ladies, is in town to spend her summer vacation with Milton relatives.

—Miss Hand, for two years past a missionary among the Mormons of Utah, occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church last Sunday morning and evening. Her efforts on both occasions were highly commended by those who listened to them.

—Remember the annual sermon before the College Christian Association, by Rev. J. W. McGowan, of Lena, Ill., at the S. D. B. church next Friday evening. The reverend gentleman is a graduate of the college, and for that reason, if no other, deserves a large hearing. He is a very pleasant speaker, and a man of great talent.

—Some weeks since, a family came to this village and secured a house, and, we are credibly informed, that the old man, accompanied by two young girls, is visiting the country for miles around, presenting a dunning letter and soliciting aid. He is a professional beggar, and not deserving of help, and the proper steps should be taken to rid the town of their presence.

—The carpenters are now putting the finishing touches to A. S. Dunham's new residence. When completed Mr. Dunham will have one of the most commodious houses in town.—Durand Correspondent Rockford Gazette.

THEY SAY.

That he ought to be caught and when nabbed put in jail until wanted.

That some of Collin Smith's mammoth gold fish already weigh a pound or two.

That Eld. Dunn's sermon brought the longed for wetness last Saturday night.

—That F. C. Dunn is going to open a first class line of clothing in this village.

That unless we get plenty of rain within ten days this locality will be bankrupt.

That this has been the hottest June known here in many years and also the driest.

That the "old man" lost his begging letter on the highway in front of his dwelling place.

That about half the members of the band will help the Bower City Band on the 4th of July.

That Prof. Stillman's mid-day concert next Tuesday will be the finest he has ever given.

That no one should give anything to the beggars who claim a residence in this village.

That sal-soda and the wells are the only things that enable people to wear clean clothes.

That the application of that paint on Williams' store front is a very noticeable improvement.

That the weather has been so dry that mosquitos couldn't live. "No great loss without some small gain.

That Saunders and Crumb have contracted to deliver a car load of eggs to a Philadelphia firm next winter.

That the Chicago lady quartette, who sing here next Wednesday evening, at the senior concert, are the finest in the west.

That Hon. George R. Peck is the most accomplished orator west of the Mississippi. He speaks here on Commencement Day.

"Influencing" Editors and Legislators.

OMAHA, Neb., June 22.—Thomas L. Kimball, general traffic manager of the Union Pacific road, testified before the Pacific railway commission that his company had for years given passes to editors and legislators. The company had undertaken to persuade legislators to defeat legislation hostile to the company, but witness never knew of money being used for such purposes. Money might have been so used without his knowledge.

ODDS AND ENDS.

According to The Philadelphia Times, the excellent manual training schools of Philadelphia are mainly filled with the sons of wealthy men. In sending their sons to these schools, the wealthy men show their good sense; but it will be a pity if the sons of poor men are thereby deprived of the opportunity of attending them.

A man who died in England lately left legacies to the extent of £55,000, and stipulated for a brass band at his funeral and a banquet to the mourners. By the time the last bones of the banquet had been picked clean, it was ascertained that his whole possessions consisted of a thirty shilling horse and £3 worth of coarse hay.

Readers of some of the London papers frequently find a ghastly red human skeleton pasted on a conspicuous part of their paper. This is not the work of the publishers, but of an enterprising quack doctor who takes this way of advertising his nostrums.

Lamar Fontaine, who claims the authorship of "All quiet along the Potomac to-night," is a witness in the trial of Hamilton for the murder of Gambrell at Jackson, Miss. He appears as an expert in pistol practice, and it is claimed that he is able to fire a number of shots into the bunghole of a barrel rolling down hill.

Mr. Eadweard Muybridge has just completed the plates of his work on "Animal Locomotion," with reproductions of nearly 20,000 instantaneous photographs of men and animals in almost every imaginable position, representing part of the investigation carried on by the University of Pennsylvania.

A Winnipeg photographer has put himself in a way to have a fine lot of libel suits. He recently exhibited a case full of photographs of his debtors, each being labeled with the name, address and indebtedness of the person represented.

Oscar Wilde has blossomed out as a novelist of the blood and thunder school. One of the London society papers is printing a serial story from his pen entitled "Lord Arthur Saville's Crime; a Tale of Chiromancy."

Queen Victoria has declared her intention of "patronizing" a projected exhibition of articles belonging to Mary Queen of Scots, and has asked that a catalogue of the relics when ready shall be sent to her.

A London shopkeeper was recently fined under the new act of parliament for keeping two of his girls at work for ninety-seven hours in a week—sixteen hours and a half day—that is, for six days running.

It is said that John Greenleaf Whittier and Robert Purvis, of Philadelphia, are the only original members now living of the American Anti-Slavery society.

A Decatur, Ills., man, who has been testing the capacity of the sparrow to withstand the effects of poison, gave one bird a grain of crystal strychnine without effect.

Unusually low water in Lake Constance has been bringing to light many valuable and interesting relics of the prehistoric lake dwellers.

The personal estate of the late J. D. Perrins, a proprietor of the celebrated Worcestershire sauce, amounted to nearly $3,000,000.

The real estate sales of New York for the first four months of the year foot up in round numbers $50,000,000.

Two hundred and sixty-two pairs of twins were born in Chicago during 1886.

We Caution all Against Them.

The unprecedented success and merit of Ely's Cream Balm—a real cure for catarrh, hay fever and cold in the head—has induced many adventurers to place catarrh medicines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the market, in order to trade upon the reputation of Ely's Cream Balm. Don't be deceived. Buy only Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your immediate locality will testify in highest commendation of it. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price 50 cents.
